About us

“Support Staffordshire empowers communities to be the best they can be. It supports communities, individuals and organisations to work in collaboration to bring about positive change in their communities by actively encouraging Social Action.”

We act in three main ways:

- Advancing individual social action and volunteering for all
- Supporting communities and organisational development
- Bringing together organisations and collaborating with a strong collective voice

Our growing network of over 1,400 members offers a range of networking opportunities. The easiest way to get involved is to join us at your quarterly locality forum. There are now eight forums open to all Voluntary, Community and Social Enterprise (VCSE) organisations who are active in that locality. Please contact us to find out when the next one is due to take place in your area.
